PALM EVENT
CELEBRATING MOTORSPORTS
MARCH 18-20, 2022

Welcome to The Palm Event 2022

It's March in Palm Beach, and it's time again for The Palm Event, an incredible eight-year ride from a small event in a famous real estate magnate's backyard to a full-fledged garden party on the President of the United States' poolside lawn. Throughout this journey, we have had incredible challenges, including a global Pandemic that has cultivated incredible friendships. First and foremost, we would like to especially thank and recognize our board members and team that we built who produce this event every year. We couldn't do without them. Also, we would personally like to thank everyone who has supported our event during the past eight years, including the car owners, volunteers, sponsors, attendees and our friends. A special thanks to the staff at Mar-a-Lago for having us, and delivering a consistently wonderful experience through thick and thin. It is humbling to think about all the love and support that we have received over the years to make this the truly special event that it is today.

As for this weekend, we welcome you to enjoy the eighth annual Palm Event on the magnificent grounds of Mar-a-Lago.

We have an amazing weekend in store for you. The Palm Event 2022 kicks off with our VIP Welcome Party, returning to Rybovich Super Yacht Marina, the home of the very first Palm Event kickoff party in 2015. Our increasingly popular Vintage Rallye begins at the oceanfront Tideline Resort & Spa. We then take a driving tour of Palm Beach with a couple of cultural stops and lunch at the prestigious Sailfish Club of Florida. Sunday, of course, is the main event at the fabulous Mar-a-Lago Club.

Our Historical Display features cars from throughout the world displayed on the lawn at the breathtaking and exclusive Mar-a-Lago Club. We have a stellar lineup in store for you this year, including prewar and postwar classics, a selection of significant race cars, and the latest in modern day hypercars. More than that, we celebrate the lifestyle that is Palm Beach. From the cars, people, and fashion, to the cuisine, entertainment and experience, it's everything that you would expect from a Sunday afternoon in Palm Beach.

Throughout the weekend we will be raising money for a truly special cause, The Place of Hope. Place of Hope is dedicated to providing a stable and loving environment for children, youth and families who are hurting. Located in our own backyard, they were ranked number one for 2021 in the Nation for Children Services, Youth Development, and Shelter. Please make sure to visit them at our show, and afterwards at PlaceOfHope.com. They are truly making a difference in local children's lives.

Thanks again and we look forward to seeing everyone this weekend.

AMERICAN HUSTLE

The ultimate All-American supercar is, without doubt, Saleen's 1,000-horsepower S7 Twin Turbo Competition. We have the world's best at The Palm Event.

Words and Photography by Howard Walker

A thousand horsepower. Enough to catapult this candy apple red projectile from zero to 60 mph in a mere 2.3 seconds and punch it to a top speed of 250-plus mph. Enough to spin those huge rear tires on the freeway. In fourth gear.

This is the astonishing S7 Twin-Turbo Competition Package from California Mustang tuner turned supercar builder, Steve Saleen. And back in 2005, it was simply the most powerful, most potent, most scary-fast production supercar you could drive on the road.

Saleen unveiled the S7 back in 2000. Entirely hand-built at Saleen's shop in Irvine, CA, this $375,000 rocketship featured a high-strength steel space frame chassis wrapped in a gorgeous, air-cleaving carbon fiber body.

Power came from a thundering 7-liter V8 based on a Ford 351 Windsor small-block packing 550-horsepower. In 2005, Saleen added twin turbos to boost power to 750-hp, and the same year offered a big-winged Competition Package version with even bigger Garrett turbos and 1,000-hp. When production ended in 2006, fewer than 75 S7s had been built.

THE 60-PLUS CARS
CURRENTLY TUCKED AWAY
IN ANONYMOUS GRAY
WAREHOUSE ON SARASOTA'S
TAMIAMI TRAIL MAKE UP THE OFFICIAL DREAM LIST FOR ANY SUPERCAR AND SPORTSCAR LOVER.

The car you see here is owned by Sarasota-based car collector extraordinaire, Scott Libertore, who is showcasing his best-of-the-best Saleen S7 at The Palm Event for the first time. Scott's Car Cave SRQ Collection is part private museum, part exotic and vintage car dealership, part love song to breathtaking machinery.

The 60-plus cars currently tucked away in anonymous gray warehouse on Sarasota's Tamiami Trail make up the official dream list for any supercar and sportscar lover. Everything from an oh-so-classy '64 Aston Martin DB4, to an insane '96 Vector M12 - the car Jeremy Clarkson tested on Top Gear - to a stunning 1993 Jaguar XJ220.

Then there's the fully-restored '79 Smokey and The Bandit Trans Am, a prized 800-mile Spyker LM85, a glorious, stealthy-black Mercedes-Benz 300SL Roadster, and an 8,000-mile BMW Z8. The list goes on. And on. Every car is fully-sorted to start at the first, or maybe second, turn of the car. Every car ready to run.

But his S7 Twin Turbo 'Comp' is extra special. Said to be only one of two official, factory-built Competition Package models - other cars went back to Saleen for a conversion - it has just over 1,000 miles on the clock and is fresh out of an exhaustive, year-long rebuild.

"The Saleen is on Scott's 'Do Not Sell, Keep Forever' list. It's just an iconic American supercar," says Nathan Clary, collection manager and chief car wrangler at Car Cave SRQ.

Nathan tells us Scott bought the car in 2018 from the Manny Khoshbin Collection in California. Before that it had been owned by supercar kleptomaniac, Michael Fux. Together they had added barely 500 miles to the car's odometer.

"It just didn't run well, largely because it hadn't been run. We had the motor completely rebuilt and the car taken apart and sorted by turbocharger guru Jason Heffner here in Sarasota. It took over a year. But now the car is better than new," explains Nathan.

How does this million-dollar American hustler drive? "It feels like a thousand horsepower; it is a lot of car to handle. It'll light-up the tires whether you're in first or fifth, but it feels glued to the road. It's reckoned that at 160mph, it creates its own weight in downforce. It's a beast."

Welcome to a Very Special Event

More than a car show, The Palm Event is a lifestyle.

By Larry Printz

Call The Palm Event what you will: sumptuous, indulgent, luxurious, pleasurable, lively, convivial, and entertaining. But don't call it a car show; this is a lifestyle.

Oh sure, there are cars, quite a few in fact, parked on the back lawn of Palm Beach's legendary Mar-A-Lago as if they've arrived for a garden party. And in fact they have. And that's the point.

There's fashion, there's food, there's wine, artwork, cigars and so much more, framing the field and the experience, pampering participants to the finest that Palm Beach has to offer. It's an event that's become so popular – it sells out every year – that you'd swear it's a longtime island tradition, but in fact it's not.

The show is the vision of Scott Shrader and Tara Meredith. Scott is a Pittsburgh native and longtime South Florida resident, not to mention a life-long car enthusiast. He's involved with the Ferrari Club of America, having first come up through the Porsche Club of America.

And he's seen car shows; many, many car shows. He knows what he likes.

"Instead of just having a car show, we wanted to have a fun day at Palm Beach with the things that we love: great food, great wine, great cars, and great people," Scott said.

But even when it comes to a car show, you'll find this one is far from typical, even though like so many car shows, this one raises money for the state-licensed children's charity, Place of Hope.

"I decided to do unconventional things, you know, and it worked out," Scott said. "For example, one of them is just not having classes. It's not fun to walk by Ferrari after Ferrari after Ferrari. And then get to Corvette, Corvette, Corvette and then Jaguar, Jaguar, Jaguar. So we mix it up, the old next to the new, the Italian roadster next to the muscle car."

This is why you might find a 1939 Bugatti next to a Ferrari SP1 among the carefully curated cars on display, including race cars, hyper cars, GTs, sports cars, coupes, sedans, roadsters, 1930s classics, even broughams of the 1970s.

But life is more than engine blocks, horsepower, and top speed, and so is The Palm Event. That's been the vision of the show since it first sputtered to life in 2015.

It starts as all great parties start, over cocktails at the Rybovich Superyacht Marina, site of The Palm Event's inaugural reception. It's here where the week unwinds and a special weekend begins, where the show's participants begin to experience the Palm Beach lifestyle while sipping great wine, tasting elegant hors d'oeuvres while savoring a hint of what's to come amongst haute couture and fast cars.

It's followed on Saturday by a road rally, even though there's no need to summon up your inner-Andretti. This event is about grand touring in your fabulous ride. Like any rally, there's a bit of competition involved, but it doesn't pertain to speed. It encompasses immersing yourself in the essence of Palm Beach, marveling at story-high hedges and ancient Banyan trees, and stops that allow you to drink in the island's culture. You might find yourself at The Society of the Four Arts, or the Ann Norton Sculpture Garden before experiencing a waterside lunch at The Sailfish Club of Florida, the oldest continuously-running private club in Palm Beach, and a venue most participants would not otherwise enjoy.

"We try to incorporate some culture along with the history of Palm Beach," Scott said. "We try to give people a taste of Palm Beach while at the same time making it social."

The tour ends with an after party at the iconic Palm Beach Breakers Resort, leaving the rest of the afternoon and evening for exploration of the island and all that it offers. Or you can rest up; Sunday is a whole lot of fun.

And by now, you know Sunday is about legendary cars as well as cravings; for great art, for renowned wine, for in-credible cigars, delicious food, thought-provoking art, and the companionship of those whose share your passion – including your significant other. For unlike other car shows, women are as likely to show up as men, as they can indulge themselves in designer frocks and poolside fashion shows.

"It attracts as many women as men, which is very unusual for any show with cars in it," Scott said. "That's our little secret. We get as much demand from women as we do men. In this case, sometimes the women are dragging the men to the show."

But the lifestyle sponsors, selectively chosen to create the ultimate Palm Beach experience, are interwoven into the fabric of the show itself, welcoming participants with couches and conviviality.

"You just get to come in, talk to the people and get to know get to know them, as opposed to walking up to a table and getting a flyer. People tend to really, really love it."

It's all set in the splendor of Mar-A-Lago, the stunning vision of socialite Marjorie Merriweather Post. Built at a cost of $7 million in 1927, or $112.5 million today, the 128-room mansion lies on 20 acres between Florida's Intracoastal Waterway and the Atlantic Ocean. Designed by architects Marion Sims Wyeth and Joseph Urban, and requiring three years to build, it is now a National Historic Landmark, one that became a private club in 1995, with a new 20,000-square-foot ballroom accented in $7 million in gold leaf.

It's a resplendent to this very special event, one that allows you to experience the Palm Beach lifestyle, its extravagance, pleasures, people, and lifestyle, as well as motorcars of every era.

SIR DUDLEY'S

CUSTOM CLOTHIER

At Sir Dudley's, Bespoke is not a department in a store. Bespoke is all we do. Whether you buy your custom clothing on Savile Row or this is your first foray into custom, Sir Dudley's offers a quality Bespoke tailoring experience. We regard every garment like a work of art. Our job is to deliver the most elevated experience in custom clothing, taking great pride in the fact that our clients trust us enough to create a wardrobe to fit their lifestyle.

A custom garment is a living, breathing extension of the individual it was created for. A well-constructive tailored garment molds to the body over time, without ever feeling starched or uncomfortable. Made with the highest quality fabrics, canvas, linings, and hand-picked threads, these are all qualities you can expect from a bespoke garment. Unlike many made-to-measure or ready-to-wear garments, our jackets, slacks, shirts, and suits are made the traditional way, each cut specifically for the individual.

It can be confusing to discern what is custom and what isn't. What makes one garment better than another and why do some cost more than others? The quality of the fabric is certainly a factor, but with many ready-to-wear stores offering made-to-measure as "custom", consumers have little idea as to what they actually get. It's like comparing a Rolls Royce with a pickup truck. Sir Dudley's lays out exactly what you are getting so you can make the best choices for your wardrobe.

Radford Type 62

Radford Motors is a global luxury automotive brand with a British heart and soul, creating on-trend vehicles based on classic, timeless designs. All Radford automobiles will be created around the company's motto, 'Design Build Drive,' inspired by the legendary British coachbuilding company of the same name, which once built cars for a celebrity clientele that included all four of The Beatles.

Radford is co-owned by former FIA Formula One™ World Champion Jenson Button, broadcaster and motoring specialist Ant Anstead and acclaimed business adviser and lawyer Roger Behle.

The Lotus Type 62-2 coachbuilt by Radford, is limited to 62 examples worldwide; of those 62 cars, only 12 will be JPS liveried cars. Twelve was selected, as it is synonymous with legendary racing driver Ayrton Senna whose JPS liveried cars always wore the number 12 on their coachwork.

The John Player Special livery is one of the most famous and significant racing car liveries. Its legendary black and gold colour scheme is most instantly recognisable from the bodywork of the Lotus Type 72D which Emerson Fittipaldi raced to five victories during the course of the 1972 Formula 1 season.

The Gold Leaf livery is known as the first sponsored Formula One livery. The red, white and gold colour scheme was applied after Colin Chapman signed a deal with Gold Leaf, and is most well-known on the Type 49B, that Graham Hill raced during the 1968 season.

In addition to the liveried models (commissioning only 12 each); Radford is currently taking build slot applications for the 38 additional ultra-exclusive "classic" Type 62/2's, each which can be coachbuilt to each owners specification.

Ant Anstead "The opportunity to buy a Radford hasn't been around for many years, and when Radford was last a force to be reckoned with, the clientele that bought the cars was distinguished to say the least. Radford has always been a special, exclusive and well-respected luxury brand. And now we are bringing the spirit of Radford back with the Type 62/2 – which completely embodies the historic attributes of the brand – it is coachbuilt, luxurious and exclusive.

Radford draws upon a strong history of design, including creating the bodywork of the original Ford GT40, one of the most iconic sports cars in history. That wealth of design heritage is what informs Radford today. The craftsmanship bestowed upon each build and the level of personalisation available position The Type 62/2 among the best of the British luxury brands."

Jenson Button "For me, a key purpose of Radford is to celebrate iconic automotive moments by bringing them back to life for a new, modern audience. Our first car, the Type 62/2, embodies that ethos to a tee. As a British car lover I am excited that Radford has the honour of working alongside Lotus to pay homage to the truly stunning original Type 62 from 1969."

All Radford owners will be invited to attend an exclusive one-day track event with Jenson Button. The FIA Formula One™ World Champion will demonstrate how owners can get the most out of their Radford road cars on the racetrack on which they were developed.

CELEBRATING LIFE'S PRIVILEGES IN A HARSH WORLD

The Wolves and the Mandolin: Celebrating Life's Privileges in a Harsh World follows the Vallorani family's modest beginnings in Italy, regaling the reader with legend-worthy stories of Papa Luigi's first years in America. Vallorani provides his philosophies in business and management, using his success as an entrepreneur, and the path taken to create his quality brand of hand-curated luxury products, Vallorani Cigars and Vallorani Vineyards.

"The wolves and the mandolin story has been passed down from generation to generation in my family. A great-uncle was stuck in a tree surrounded by wolves. He played his mandolin to pass the time, and the beautiful music calmed the wolves and my great-uncle made it away safely," says Vallorani. "This tale reminds us that beauty can be found even in the midst of growling wolves and that even the fiercest wolves can be calmed."
